

Give a Vaccine

Give a vaccine to someone in need
in a developing country.
In return for a vaccine received.

The current COVID-19 pandemic tells us something. That we are better working together. Right now, the world needs vaccinations and right now only the wealthy countries are being effectively vaccinated. Our campaign at Give a Vaccine is simple. If you, in a wealthy country, receive a vaccine through your state or health service then could you give the cost to someone in less privileged circumstances?

The average price for a vaccine is around £15. If you give, then we will ensure that the money is used for vaccinations in areas of the world that are simply not going to get vaccinated any time soon, without our help. Without us working together.

Give a Vaccine will not use donations for administrative costs and we will pass on all the money to achieve our goals.
